

PLANNING BOARD VOTES FOR BARBO

The Wilmington Planning Board, early Wednesday morning, voted 4 to 1 to support the re-zoning of the Carl Realty property between Concord Street and Park Street at next Monday's Town Meeting. The one vote was by Mrs. McKie who voted present. Voting in favor were members Bloom, Miceli, Gillis and Rounds.

The vote came at the end of a long discussion which had started about 11 pm. Every conceivable facet of the proposal was discussed.

Banda started the discussion by moving to support the petition and then when he saw a long discussion coming, he excused himself because he had a prior commitment.

Mr. Bloom spent some time arguing the engineering of the project saying that there was not a 'closed end'. Later he was raising questions about right of way. Finally, after 15 minutes, Mr. Bloom said, 'The reason I am asking these questions is because I wasn't there when the discussion was going on'.

The Board voted on suggestion of Danny Gillis to write a comprehensive report which will be read to the Town Meeting by the Chairman, Austin Rounds.

ATTENDING A RECEPTION AT THE HOME OF GOVERNOR AND MRS VOLPE, on October 15th, which officially started the EMARC Fund Drive are: L to R, Mrs. Joseph Meehan, Birchwood Road, Mrs. Volpe, EMARC honorary Chairman, and Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Squibb of 1 Suncrest Avenue.

TAX ASSESSMENT

The administration of tax assessments is extremely complex and of utmost importance since the property tax is the primary source of the Town's revenue. Thus, it is imperative that it be administered in accordance with the best standards and practices.

The first, and invariably the most difficult phase of the property tax administration is the assessment function which involves the official act of discovering, listing, and appraising property whether performed by an Assessor, a Board of Assessors, the Courts, or an expert reappraisal firm.

The assessment function in all local governments should be based on sound principles for the lawful, equitable, and scientific determination of values. In general these principles, as advocated by the International Association of Assessing Officers, include: (1) conformity with laws and court decisions; (2) consideration of all factors affecting value; (3) uniform valuation of all property and assessment at market value unless otherwise provided by law; (4) no mere run-copying or arbitrary adjustments of values; (5) determination of assessments by the assessor and not by the taxpayer; and (6) public access to information regarding the methods of determining value of property.

It is needless to say that good assessment practices require an effective organization, personnel who possess the requisite skills, training, knowledge and experience, the proper equipment and good administrative techniques.

The concepts of value for assessment purposes are in the last analysis a matter of opinion. We have "value to the owner" and "market value". But in the field of assessment administration another value concept before arrival of an "assessed value" is a term called "constructive market value," which for assessment purposes combines the desirable elements of the first two concepts arrived at by the application of reasonable rules and appraisal procedures employing the scientific method and the treatment of all properties on the same basis.

I think we as taxpayers are often too quick to judge a governmental operation without sufficient knowledge of the complexity of their work and the physical and fiscal limitations imposed upon them. Your concern for equity in assessment administration is just so that you can feel with confidence that you are paying your fair burden of the total amount of taxes being collected.

The Principle Assessor in Wilmington is the one individual charged with the assessment of property values and I think that his function very much parallels that of a one-man band in relationship to the amount of work required and the complexity of the endeavor. Thus, with the utmost importance of the assessment function, it is highly desirable at this time to have an expert reappraisal firm come in to Wilmington and restore confidence in the assessment function; more importantly, establish equity in assessment practices.

It is unimportant to try to place blame for existing conditions. The 1965 base for property values is now totally inadequate for the present $13,000,000 in property values to support your schools and municipal services. There is a dire need of outsiders coming in and accomplishing the objectives of assessment administration stated above.

It is the intention of the Board of Assessors that if a complete expert reappraisal is voted at the Special Town Meeting, November 22, that the 1965 tax bills will be held up and mailed only upon conclusion of the reappraisal.

Percy Cornish Recovering

Percy Cornish of Park Street is on the road to recovery after an accidental gunshot wound, in Maine, last week.

Cornish was near Bangor, Maine when the accident happened. For the first twenty-four hours after the accident fears were expressed that he would die, but he is now definitely on the road to recovery, and is expected to be transferred soon to the Lowell General Hospital.

TELEPHONE COMPANY HAVING TROUBLES

New England Telephone and Telegraph Company is evidently trying to sell the 'old' exchange building on Church Street now supplanted by the new one on Main Street.

Last September 21, a civil engineer from the Telephone Company filed a map with the Planning Board showing the two lots of land plus a section between them, part of the Church Street lot, which, it was proposed, should be made a part of the Main Street lot.

Unfortunately, from the Planning Board's viewpoint, it was not clear as to which lot the section would go to and the Planning Board refused to sign the plan.

In October, the same plan was filed again, and a third time on Tuesday evening of this week by a Mr. Schofield, Civil Engineer.

The Planning Board argument was that there was insufficient information, and Mr. Schofield's argument was that he had given all the information. The argument lasted over half an hour and then the case was taken under advisement.

and other Blackout Stories

The hand in the trunk

Every one has his favorite story as to what he was doing or what happened during the blackout of last week.

Dr Erwin Chernoff of Middlesex Avenue, who has perhaps one of the keenest wits in Wilmington, told his fellow Rotarians a story last week that is worth repeating. It seems, according to the story, that Chernoff was 'borrowing' some electricity at 5:15 pm from his near neighbor Joe McMahon. This of course without Mr. McMahon's knowledge.

And, Chernoff told the Rotarians as they roared in laughter, Mr. McMahon has 'awfully cheap wires'. Another story concerns George Russell, business manager of the North Reading Transcript.

Mr. Russell in the past five years has achieved a record of photographing every automobile in North Reading which happened to strike a light pole and thus put out the lights in that town. These photographs have all duly appeared in the Transcript.

So when the lights went out in North Reading last week, George reacted according to form.

He grabbed his camera and started south on Main Street, looking for the cause of the blackout.

It is difficult to say which house in Wilmington was best lit during the blackout. Many places depended on candles, a number of places had lamps, some of the Colburn variety, and there were a couple of homes where there evidently was a small supply of electricity.

Perhaps the best lit home was that of Bill Harrison on Church Street at the corner of Adams Street. Possibly Mr. Harrison has a private generator.

Another story on the blackout which may be apochryphal, but which the Town Crier has been assured is true, was an incident which is supposed to have happened in the North Wilmington parking lot.

One of Wilmington's gendarmes who was protecting the area, is supposed to have seen a human hand inside the trunk of an automobile parked there. Evidently the trunk cover was partly open.

This policeman summoned other police, and they went to the lady who was parked in the car (not a resident of Wilmington) and asked her if she knew that there was a human hand in the trunk of her car.

She didn't believe the police. They asked her if they might open the trunk and look. She gave ready assent.

When the trunk was opened, there was a man. He was seated within, lightly dressed, the heaviest item of clothing being a sweater. The police hauled him out and the woman told the police that the man was her husband. She did not know that he had been in the trunk of her car.

The man in turn told the police that he was checking up on his wife. He was shivering as he spoke.

So the police told him to get in the car and go home with his wife, and she said 'no' and slammed the door.

U. F. O. Nov. 9, 1965

The people concerned in this story will not admit that it happened, and perhaps with good reason. People who see little green men in flying saucers, and things like that, are generally not believed.

This was a father-in-law, son-in-law combination. The two men were on Salem Street near the gravel pits which the Town took a year or so ago for water supply. The story has been told to the Town Crier, but this paper will not reveal the names of the two men.

While on Salem Street, near the pits, the two men saw three objects descend from the skies, 'sailing' as one unit. The objects veered to the right, to the left, went up and down, and finally zoomed off into space, all the time keeping their relative positions. It was impossible to tell the distance from the car in which the men were riding to the three objects. The car was slowed down to about 5 miles per hour, the better to observe the three objects.

Both men agreed on what they saw. Neither will admit publicly that he saw anything at all.

Letter

November 15, 1965

Dear Larz,

In the recent turmoil created over re-zoning in our town, many accusations have been made by people who, though undoubtedly sincere, are misinterpreting the intentions of others. May I, through your paper, try to clarify once and for all that the League of Women Voters of Wilmington is NOT against industry!

What we are against is haphazard re-zoning for individuals and business firms who wish to put their industries in the areas that are the cheapest and most convenient for THEM.

I would like to point out that Wilmington, as of this past January, had zoned 1419.1 acres for industry where WE wanted it. Mr. Samuel P. Snow, Wilmington's Planning Consultant, tells us in his January 1965 report that of this 1419.1 acres only 263 acres, or about 18.5 percent of our industrially zoned land, has been developed. Of the remaining 1156 acres there are approximately 225 acres of swamp land, leaving us 931 acres of unoccupied land usable for industrial development!

The industrial area situated east of Woburn Street and south of Lowell Street is not only convenient to Route 93 but is located near an existing sewer main as well -- a main which Mr. Snow feels is adequate. The industrial area in the northwesterly sector of the Route 93 - 125 interchange is also convenient to Route 93, and although there is no municipal sewer service, Mr. Snow tells us the soil is porous enough to provide for adequate leaching fields. Here are two large industrial areas waiting to be developed. They are accessible to Route 93, have no apparent sewer problems, are buildable, and are convenient to Routes 128 and 495, and to Boston.

One may well ask -- how do we encourage the development of these areas? The answer -- by refusing to re-zone residential areas at the request of any industry that comes along! Other towns manage to have industries locate in industrial zones -- why can't we?

In regard to the specific re-zoning being proposed for the Concord Street - Route 93 area, Mr. Snow does recommend the use of a portion of this area for commercial purposes. By a portion, I am referring to his recommendation that we re-zone 1800 feet back from Concord Street, or approximately 71 acres -- not the 180 acres currently being proposed!

Even for these 71 acres he lists two major disadvantages. First is the matter of access -- serious traffic problems will be created by building two roads for non-residential use on to Concord Street near the Route 93 ramps.

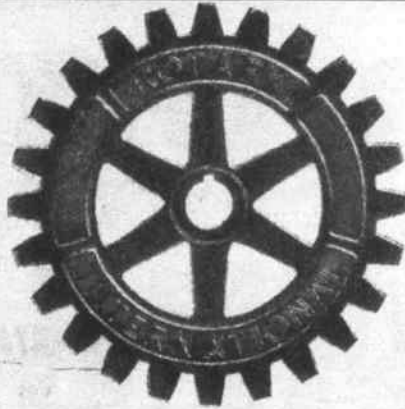

Another major disadvantage is the lack of a municipal sewer service for this area. Mr. Snow says, 'Because of the land's location in the Ipswich River watershed, the matter is particularly important. Consideration must be given to the Reading well fields and those farther downstream in Lynnfield.'

In addition to listing these disadvantages, Mr. Snow suggests our zoning by-law should be revised to provide more types of industrial and commercial zones. He suggests that our zoning by-law should include a Special Commercial District for the Concord Street area, and further suggests what the uses in this special commercial district should be.

At the conclusion of his report, Mr. Snow recommends that the Planning Board amend the zoning by-law and map, revise subdivision rules and regulations, and assist in any necessary revision of the building by-laws PRIOR to carrying out the development of the Concord Street area. Options have been known to be extended!

The League of Women Voters does not feel it is being short sighted when it urges the citizens of this town to see to it that Mr. Snow's recommendations are carried out BEFORE re-zoning this or any other area.

Mrs. William Hooper Jr.
President, LWV

Where The Action Is...

Know where the action is?

Know what the action is?

The answer to both questions ... the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine Wouldn't you like to take a part in the action? An active part?

Strange answers you get to that question.

Take, for example, the reaction of Walter Well-Meaning.

'Walter,' I said to him, 'the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine is a parish-wide program of education ... education for everyone ... all ages. Some teach. Everyone learns. How about you?'

'Very noble aim,' Walter replied, 'but not for me. My kids go to C.C.D. I even take them and pick them up. But I can't teach. Even if I could, I don't want to.'

'Correction,' I said, 'Your kids are in one phase of C.C.D., the School of Religion. C.C.D. is a lot more than that. There are four other phases in this program, you know. Want to hear about it?'

'OK, TV's terrible tonight anyhow.'

DISCUSSION CLUBS

'Ah, so you're a TV dropout? Sounds to me as though you might enjoy one of the Discussion Clubs. These clubs are for people like you.'

'Wait a minute. I guess you've gathered that I like to talk, but my wife is quiet. She doesn't like to talk the way I do. Besides we don't know enough religion to discuss it all night, and sometimes we both can't go out. If the kids are sick or the new baby ...'

'Now you wait a minute. Let me explain it a bit, Walter. The C.C.D. Discussion Clubs have a place for everyone, talker or listener, debater and thinker. In the past three years Saint Thomas Discussion Clubs have increased from one group in the beginning to six groups at present. We would like to have even more. We want well-informed Catholic adults who can help to inform others, and we want people who feel they're not well-informed to learn. In addition, the C.C.D. will provide a babysitter, free of charge, if necessary, so people can attend these clubs.'

'Gee, I don't know. I had all that catechism when I was a kid. It doesn't sound very stimulating to me.'

'Are you up on the changes coming out of the Vatican Council? What are your views on Parish problems? What do you think about the new forms of worship? Would you like to learn more about the Bible? Are you interested in Christian Unity? Aren't you interested in those things?'

'Of course I am.'

This gives you some idea of the scope of these clubs. There is a group to meet everyone's interest and capability. Larry and Jean Doucette of Oakdale Road are in charge of the Discussion Club section of the C.C.D. and would be happy to find a club to suit you or help you to start a new club in your own neighborhood. All it takes is a call to 658-4586.'

'I'd have to check with the wife. We're not what you'd call joiners.'

'Then maybe one of the other sections of the C.C.D. would be more appealing to you and Mrs. Well-Meaning. But if you know of anyone who's interested in Discussion Clubs, pass on Larry and Jean's number. And incidentally, Walter, with a new baby, you've already been introduced to another Candle, leave lasting impressions, which contribute to the formation of a child's attitudes and values. And most people, once they have adopted these teaching methods in the home, will verify that for children and adults alike, the experience is fun as well as enriching.'

'Gee, that sounds pretty good. Everyone is interested in children. But there again, I couldn't deliver

I think most people think we're kidding when we say we can use anybody and on their own specified amount of time. Why don't you call Mrs. Joan Kritter at 658-3764. Tell her what you'd like to do and how much time you can give, and she'll fix you up.'

'Now you're sure of that? I know they usually start out that way, but if it's anything like other organizations, don't they really load it on after a while? That's one of the munity. It ministers to the religious and spiritual needs of everyone. And it encourages and promotes the cause of Christian Unity.

The influence of the Second Vatican Council and Pope John XXIII has given great impetus to the work of the Apostolate of Good Will. The Ecumenical Council, the election of the first Roman Catholic President, and the first appearance of a Pope in the United States of the C.C.D. divisions, the Parent-Educator Division.'

'That's right, too. When we had the baby baptized, Parent-Educators gave the baby a baptismal robe and candle. It was pretty impressive.'

PARENT EDUCATION

'The Parent-Educator Program is one of the C.C.D.'s most important divisions. YOU are responsible for educating your children. Church schools only supplement the training YOU give in the home. If home training is deficient, church training is ineffective. The Parent-Educator Program helps parents like you to develop the proper home atmosphere and to teach daily Christian living.

The Parent-Educator Program consists of three basic sections:

- (1) leaflet distribution
- (2) Parent-Educator discussion clubs,
- (3) liturgical settings.

The first section operates this way. From the time a child is baptized until he is six years of age, the parents receive an informative and attractive leaflet every three months to help them in the child's formative years. The leaflets are delivered by volunteer home visitors. They are parents themselves who appreciate the value and need of such a program.

The purpose of the second section, Parent-Educator discussion clubs, is to give parents an opportunity to discuss and solve common problems. These groups make use of pamphlets, books, records, and tape recordings to present to participating parents much information and varied opinions.

LITURGICAL SETTINGS

The third section promotes and encourages the use of liturgical settings in the Christian home. These liturgical settings are visual aids which captivate the young child and make both the learning and the living of his religion an active and pleasant experience. Family traditions, such as the Advent Wreath and the Paschal those things. And my wife doesn't really have the time.'

'Doesn't she? Many women deliver these leaflets while walking their own children or when out on a drive with the family. Others do different types of Parent-Educator work according to the time they have to give. Bill and Terry Hanlon, who direct the program, are always looking for more help. If you decided to do something in this area, you could call them at 658-4302.'

HELPERS FOR EVERYBODY

But our Ace in the Hole, so to speak, is the C.C.D. division we call Helpers. The whole concept of C.C.D. is such that we defy anyone to say we haven't a spot for them. C.C.D. has room for everyone and anyone, and Helpers 'help' to prove our point.

'Things go better with Coke', they say. We say things go better with Helpers. Helpers assist and support in every way possible all other phases of the Confraternity, those we've talked about and the two remaining.

Helpers do typing, stenciling, filing; they offer transportation to those that need it for various reasons; they make visual aids, do cooking, sewing, babysitting, and telephoning. The vital work of Helpers involves every area of C.C.D. and is truly an A to Z proposition. Helpers require the services of everyone, from those who have much talent, to those who feel they have none, from those who have much time to give, to those with the least. Their members include everyone from teenagers to adults, married or single, from those who are shut-in to those who are active in the business world.'

'Now it sounds more like we could fit in there somewhere. As for the other things, maybe later on when we get squared away, we could join one of those discussion groups you mentioned. I guess we could use that, too. But how would I or anyone else know what they need or who to talk to?'

'Well, let me give you an idea what they need. They need people to: do typing and filing; use a duplicating machine; cook and sew; babysit in the home or in the Church nursery; visit shut-ins and color visual aids; do cutting and collecting pictures from magazines; work with power tools; drive a car; make phone calls and do chaperoning.'

'Brother! I see what you mean by your Ace. Even my girls can get in on the act. I bet some rainy days my wife would be tickled to have some useful projects to keep the girls busy. It sure beats having them drive her up the walls.'

reasons we're not joiners, like I said before.'

'No, I don't think you'll find this is the case here. This is not the usual type of organization, and the proof lies in the experience. It's certainly true that some people in the Confraternity are doing more than they should have to, but the majority do only what they feel they can. To relieve the burden on those carrying too much, we try continually to involve new blood, new people, new ideas.'

'Now you've mentioned three groups so far and they seem to cover everything. Where do the next two come in?'

SCHOOL OF RELIGION

'There's the School of Religion. Have you forgotten already? You thought that was the whole program.'

Touche! But I see now what you mean about its being just a part of a really big program.'

'It's only a part, yes, but a vital part, nevertheless. Saint Thomas School of Religion is one of the best organized schools of religion in the Archdiocese of Boston.

Our staff this year is comprised of 106 teachers for 1400 students, including two Sisters of Notre Dame who supervise the second grade First Communion class, and three Augustinian priests from Austin Prep who teach the eleventh grade boys.

Most of the lay teachers have been trained in Methods and Doctrine Courses given by representatives of the Archdiocese of Boston.

The School is now developed to the point where it can provide religious education from the first to the twelfth grade. Work is now underway to set up a program for educating mentally retarded children. We need qualified people to help in this endeavor.

In the School of Religion we use the best textbooks and teaching aids available, and the learning experience extends beyond the classroom to be frequently supplemented by demonstrations, retreats, movies, field trips, and informal discussions in the teacher's home. And the School of Religion is successful when the student can be made to see that 'to live is Christ.'

'O.K. I guess I'm becoming convinced that it's a darn good program. But I give up as to the last C.C.D. Division. It seems to me you've covered everyone.'

APOSTOLATES OF GOOD WILL

'The last section is the C.C.D. Apostolate of Good Will. The A.G.W. has basically a three-fold purpose. It strives by means of good public relations to create good will in both the Parish and the Community. It ministers to the religious and spiritual needs of everyone. And it encourages and promotes the cause of Christian Unity. The influence of the Second Vatican Council and Pope John XXIII has given great impetus to the work of the Apostolate of Good Will. The Ecumenical Council, the election of the first Roman Catholic President, and the first appearance of a Pope in the United States

Currently most people are concerned with the lack of Christian morality and the scandal of non-involvement. Crime, juvenile delinquency, and corruption rates climb. The obvious need to bring religious and spiritual realities into the marketplace should be the concern of all men of good will.

FOR PARISH AND COMMUNITY

The A.G.W. attempts to contribute wherever it can to advance the well-being of the Parish and the Community. This branch of the Confraternity joins with other Churches in the Community to sponsor the Annual Week of Prayer for Christian Unity. These ventures have been most successful in the past and wider participation is anticipated in the future.

'The Apostolate of Good Will also joined with local Churches in an Open House Program where the various churches conducted tours of their buildings and explained the use of furnishings and appointments.

Next spring the A.G.W. will cooperate with all churches to conduct a town-wide religious census.

The many objectives of the Apostolate of Good Will can use the talents of any person interested in its goals. The A.G.W. is looking for people who are concerned about the world today, who are interested in inter-faith relations, who have journalistic talent, who feel a personal commitment to serve Christ and to serve others. Peter Melchione, who is in charge of this division, would appreciate hearing from any interested people. They can reach him at 658-8479.

Well, that's it, Walter. What do you think?'

'I guess I had no idea what the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine really was. It's quite a program. And you've convinced me that my family and I should have a part in it somewhere. I'd like to give it some thought first though. There's quite a bit to choose from. It would be nice if every single person in the Parish did something, wouldn't it?'

'That, my friend, is the whole point! C.C.D. is 'Where the Action is', and we want everyone in on it.'

THE HEAD TABLE: At the Wilmington Firemen's Association Annual Ball, a week ago last night, in Moose Hall, N. Reading. L to R: County Commissioner Jack Dever, speaker of the evening; Rep Fred Cain, Fire Chief and Mrs Arthur Boudreau, Fire Lt. and Mrs Robert Woods, Selectman Mrs Wavle Drew, TM & Mrs Richard Henneberger, and Association President and Mrs Philip Watson.

What was the cause of the fire which burned down the Herbert C Barrows homestead, last summer? The fire, it was ascertained afterwards, started in the barn of the building which dated back to the early 1700's. It was in the back of the barn - a dry area, where there was no possibility of spontaneous combustion.

There is an answer - an ugly one. Someone must have set that fire. The Barrows fire was not alone, in having started under suspicious circumstances, during the past summer. Remember the one that started in the old building at the junction of Rtes 38 and 129 - Lowell and Main Streets?

The building was formerly the property of John MacIntosh, and is now the property of Stanley Webber. A motorist, at about 11:30 pm one evening saw a form near the building, and saw flames suddenly start. He hurried to Wilmington Square and notified the police. The fire was soon out.

Naturally no one saw the person who had been near that building just a couple of minutes previously.

And there were other suspicious fires. It is just that the Barrows fire was the most spectacular.

A week ago last night the Wilmington Firemen's Association held their annual dinner and dance, at Moose Hall, in N. Reading.

The dinner, a roast beef dinner, with plenty of food for everyone, started at 7:30 pm and was over by 8:30 pm. County Commissioner Jack Dever, of Woburn, was the principal speaker, and his subject was the '100 Club' an organization of businessmen who provide emergency funds for widows of Firemen and Policemen killed in the line of duty.

By 9 pm the program was over and until midnight the rest of the night was supposed to be devoted to dancing.

Arrangements had been made, in case there was a fire in Wilmington - Tewksbury and Reading firemen would 'cover'.

But by 10:30 pm most of the Wilmington Firemen were back in the old home town - and on the job.

There were just too many fires going on, all at once.

It turned out that Tewksbury and Reading were getting more than they bargained for.

At 7:10 pm there was a fire on Andover Street, near the Jensen farm. It started by the roadside, and took 25 minutes to put out, and be certain that there were no embers.

At 7:40 pm there was another fire on Andover Street, - this time up near the north end. Again it had started by the roadside. The Tewksbury firemen put it out - 7:40 pm to 8:20 pm.

At 7:42 pm there was a third fire, this time on Salem Street. It started deep in the woods this time, and was put out by a stand-by company of Wilmington firemen.

At 10:26 pm a fire of suspicious origin started in the old building at the corner of Main and Lowell Streets - the one owned by Stanley Webber.

This time the fire seemed to have started inside the building. It that was the case, someone had to break into that building first.

Firemen from Tewksbury, Reading, and returned Wilmington fire men combined to put that fire out, and it wasn't until 12:30 am that it was declared out.

Six minutes later, after the Main Street fire was discovered, a new fire started - this time on Ballardvale Street.

It started in a shed in back of the old Deacon Manning home - the name dates back to the middle of last century.

The home is now abandoned, but it is just possibly the oldest in Wilmington. There have been those who said it dated back to the 1660's. It most certainly was in existence by 1700, and most certainly is the oldest home in that section of town which is called North Wilmington.

Someone, the Fire Department feels, started that fire. Tewksbury and Reading put the fire out, and they were there until 12:10 am.

Somebody seems to be having a funny joke. Perhaps there is more than one someone. Quite probably a car is involved.

The joke, of course, is to set fires and keep the Fire Department busy.

Specially when the Firemen are having their Annual Ball.

A MODERN OFFICE AND INDUSTRIAL PARK FOR WILMINGTON

If You Vote to Approve Article Seven

at the Special Town Meeting, this coming Monday Night, November 22, 1965

Map of Area to be Rezoned for Proposed Office and Industrial Park

To the Voters of Wilmington:

At the adjourned Special Town Meeting scheduled for this coming Monday night, November 22, you will be asked to approve Article Seven of the Warrant to rezone over 175 acres in Wilmington for the development of an office and industrial park.

The Article was placed on the Warrant through the good offices of your Board of Selectmen on behalf of our organization, Carl Realty Corporation.

As evidence of the good faith of our intentions, we have already made a substantial investment in Wilmington in the packaging of the land for the office and industrial park. We have faith in the future of Wilmington and we hope to be part of that future.

We believe that you will share our pride in the high quality and attractive office and industrial park we propose to develop. We are confident of its success and the contribution it will make to the Town of Wilmington.

Every taxpayer will share the benefits of this substantial addition to Wilmington's tax base. We respectfully solicit your approval of Article Seven.

Sincerely,
Leo Barbo
A. J. Tambone

- The proposed rezoning is good planning. Industrial rezoning of the area is recommended by the town's professional planning consultant.
- Buffer zones and major natural barriers will separate the new industrial and office park from adjacent residential areas.
- The Park Street-Gowing Road neighborhoods are protected by a residential buffer zone which seals off these areas from commercial traffic and non-residential encroachment.
- The promotional and marketing skills of experienced, well-financed private developers will insure the success of the proposed office and industrial park.
- Failure to rezone for the industrial and office park will expose Concord Street residents to the east of Route 93 to industrial traffic from North Reading's industrial district without opportunity for redress or compensation.

- The industrial and office park will create job opportunities for Wilmington residents.
- The industrial and office park will ease the real estate tax burden on Wilmington homeowners, and enhance the value of residential property throughout Wilmington.
- Among the businesses already planning to build in the industrial and office park are:
  - a major manufacturer of business office equipment
  - a furniture manufacturer with warehouse facilities
  - a major manufacturer of optical equipment
  - an industrial printing establishment
  - an electronics research and development firm

Only 31 more shopping

We know you don't need a reminder because if your wives are like ours, they have been dropping little hints since the end of summer. In fact, as Christmas draws near, you'll probably find little notes pinned in some very conspicuous places.

Well, you can't blame them, we're usually always talking about business or busy with outside activities and they think we're not listening. Half the time we're not, but we wouldn't dare let on.

One thing we do know for sure, we're going to lose a beautiful Oriental rug (one of our wives already put her order in) and another one of our homes is going to have wall-to-wall carpeting in the bathroom because the kids have complained (supposedly) five times in the past week that the floor is cold.

See what we mean — how about you? Why not jump the gun? After all, what gift would last as long and give you so much to look at as a new rug or carpeting?

Barbara Louise Smith became the bride of Wayne Deran Eaton at a 7 pm candlelight ceremony on September 10, in the Wilmington Methodist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ethel Smith of 73 Concord Street, North Wilmington and the late Frederick A. Smith. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Eaton of 80 Main Street, Wilmington.

Rev. Robert C. Smith, Pastor of the Wilmington Baptist Church performed the marriage vows. A huge vase containing a mixed bouquet of white chrysanthemums, poms and gladioli adorned the altar.

Mr. C. Emerson Fox of Bedford, at the organ, rendered Wagner's Bridal Chorus and Mendelssohn's Wedding March, and accompanied the soloist, Mr. Winslow Whitten of Burlington, who sang Because and The Lord's Prayer.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Walter C. Smith of Hiram, Maine, and her mother.

The bride's floor length, full skirted gown of peau-de-soir satin was fashioned with a bodice and long sleeves of chantilly lace, trimmed with seed pearls. The chapel length train, made as part of the dress, flowed from her waist. Her elbow length tulle veil fell from a pearl trimmed tiara and she carried a white Bible covered with a white orchid from which a cascade of stephanotis and English Ivy fell.

Her attendants were attired in full skirted, street length gowns of chiffon over taffeta. Their headpieces of small hats trimmed with roses and leaves on the crown were of matching color to their gowns. Mrs. Joseph Quinan of Burlington, sister of the groom, was in rose and carried a cascade of red roses. In deep lilac were Elaine Smith, sister, and Marie Mirisola. Beverly Smith, sister, and Nancy Henderson wore light lilac. Her bridesmaids carried cascades of pink roses which were accented by ribbons which matched the color of their dresses. The Misses Henderson and Mirisola were classmates of the bride. The Flower Girl was Audrey Reid of Woburn, cousin of the bride. Bernard N. Eaton of South Plainfield, N.J., brother of the groom, was the Best Man. Ushering were Forrest A. Eaton, brother of the groom of Harwich; Frederick E. Reid, uncle of the bride of Woburn; C. James Smith, III, cousin of the bride, of North Wilbraham; and Joseph Quinan, brother-in-law of the groom, of Burlington. David Dalton, the young nephew of the groom, attended to the lighting of the candles for the ceremony.

The reception was held in the Methodist Church which was decorated with bouquets of mixed flowers, wedding bells and garlands of roses. Recorded music was played. Mrs. Norman Brown of Wakefield, sister of the groom, was in charge of the Guest Book.

For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother chose a deep rose two piece crepe ensemble with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a two piece powder blue ensemble with complimenting accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The new Mrs. Eaton, for her wedding trip through Vermont and New Hampshire, wore a cranberry red colored suit with contrasting accessories. The couple are residing in Harwich, Mass.

The bride, a graduate of Wilmington High School, Class of 1965, is employed by the West Harwich Bank of Cape Cod.

The bridegroom who also graduated from Wilmington High in 1965 has attended the New England Institute of Anatomy and Embalming and is an apprentice mortician. He previously served in the US Navy and is a member of the Active Naval Reserve.

The Selectmen's Meeting

MAY LOSE CHAPTER 90 MONIES

Wilmington may lose its Chapter 90 monies for 1964 and 1965 if the Special Town Meeting fails to appropriate money for land damages on Burlington Avenue, Town Manager Richard Henneberger reported to the Selectmen at their board meeting Monday night.

Henneberger also told the Selectmen that the state legislature still has not voted its budget, which may make it necessary to again pass over the article to appropriate money for the Nichols Street Bridge at the Special Town Meeting, next Monday.

The widening of the Nichols Street Bridge has been the special project of Representative Fred Cain. The last effort of the town to appropriate money for the Nichols Street Bridge at the last Special Town Meeting on October 25th was thwarted by the fact that the County Commissioners had not yet voted their budget.

The Selectmen also met with Dick Barry, George Boylen, and Ralph Biggar of the Finance Committee to discuss the action taken by the FinCom on each of the articles on the warrant.

On Article 1, the appropriation by transfer of funds for land damages on Burlington Avenue, the Finance Committee approved $11,900. Of this, $1,900 to be provided by transfer and $10,000 to be raised by bond issue. Barry told the Board that the Finance Committee felt it would be better to transfer the funds from the 'Blue Cross, Blue Shield' account rather than the 'Sewer Maintenance' account. The Selectmen agreed to make the change.

The Finance Committee approved Article 3, the transfer of funds for an 'expert appraisal of the whole town by an outside disinterested firm. But the approval was contingent upon limiting the amount to be expended to $36,000 of which $6,000 will be provided by transfers to cover payments for the current year. The Selectmen agreed with the Finance Committee that there should be a limitation to the amount to be expended written into the article and planned to propose an amendment to that effect at the Special Town Meeting.

The Board took no action on several items on the agenda, an application for a junk license, and requests for transfers of funds for the Insurance Account and the Selectmen's Account, because Board members Bender and La Rivee were not present at Monday night's meeting. It was agreed to postpone these items until action could be taken by a full Board.

The application for the junk license was made by Peter Sciascia of 8 Carter Lane. Sciascia and Fred Hill of Woburn were present at the meeting to explain that the license was to buy junk in Wilmington but store it in Woburn. Mrs. Drew told Sciascia that he would be informed of the result as soon as the Board had taken action.

A request from the Police Department for a transfer of funds for the purchase of a K-9 station wagon for the transport of the police dogs was turned down by the Board because never before had such a large expenditure been made without the approval of the Town Meeting.

The application of Joe LaCreta for a license to operate a 'Big Joe's' restaurant on Lowell Street was again brought up for discussion. An occupancy permit still has not been signed by Town Engineer Al Savignac because the plans for the restaurant do not call for enough off-street parking to be in conformity with the Zoning by-law. It was pointed out by Mrs. Drew that when LaCreta first planned the restaurant, it was to be a stand-up, take-out food stand. The change in plans to a sit-down restaurant have caused a delay in the license.

TM Henneberger suggested that LaCreta go to the Board of Appeals 'Ridiculous', said Selectman Black,

'that will take him two months'. Black went on to say that he could see no logic in a law that required more parking space if people were sitting down than if they were standing up.

Niles said, 'It would be foolish of us to vote a license in violation of the zoning by-law.' Mrs. Drew added that she thought someone should find out what he has to have and try to accomplish it. 'He should find out,' commented Niles. Mrs. Drew said, 'We'll have to let it go until the 29th. I'm not going to send him to the Board of Appeals now; it will take him months.'

At the close of the meeting, Niles brought up the 'deplorable state of the street lighting' in some areas of the town. The street lighting was particularly inadequate in the Silver Lake and Hathaway Acres areas, Niles claimed. There are enough lights, Niles said, but they are of insufficient strength. TM Henneberger agreed to investigate the possibilities of installing mercury lights throughout the town.

The meeting adjourned at 9:45.
